

National Center on Safe Supportive Learning Environments: Human Trafficking in American's Schools

- In January 2015, the Department of Education released "Human Trafficking in America's Schools" to help schools
 - understand how human trafficking impacts schools
 - recognize the indicators of possible child trafficking
 - develop policies, protocols, and partnerships to address and prevent the exploitation of children